FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Cloud Summit 2025 Brings Top Tech Minds to Vancouver for Western Canada's Largest Multi-Cloud Event

Cloud Summit, Western Canada's largest multi-cloud tech event, is happening May 27, 2025, at the Orpheum Theatre in Vancouver — and it's going to be big.

Matt Billmann, CEO and co-founder of Netlify, will headline an exciting speaker lineup designed to help developers, engineers, and tech leaders level up their cloud knowledge, connect with industry peers, and explore the future of cloud computing.

The event has an ambitious goal of raising $10,000 for charity with all profits from Cloud Summit 2025 being donated to Union Gospel Mission, supporting their work to help people overcome poverty, homelessness, and addiction in Vancouver.

Why attend?

You'll get hands-on insights and inspiration from sessions like:

- Agent Experience & Why it Matters
- Why the Best AI Agents are Built Without Frameworks
- Taking GenAI from Paper to Production with Serverless
- Hands-on AWS workshops on Building Serverless Agentic Workflows
- Building and Scaling Your Startup in the Cloud

Plus, enjoy live music, an AI-powered DJ, and plenty of opportunities to network with top tech professionals, companies and local tech communities. As a bonus, there will be an after-party at Vesper Lounge, FREE for Cloud Summit Pass Holders and $30 for the public.

“This event is about bringing people together to learn, connect, and give back,” says Matt Carolan, event organizer. “Whether you're a developer, architect, or founder — you'll walk away with ideas you can use right away.”
